In particular, any pair of complementary colors contains all three primaries. red, green red (yellow and blue) blue, orange blue (yellow and red) yellow, vio ye low (red and blue) So we can say that when a set of two or more colors contains yellow, red, and blue in suitable proportions, the mixture will be gray.

The Elements of Color

THE COLOUR BOOK PAGE 17. As we mentioned before white light contains all the colours of the spectrum and when we see something as white it is the full colour spectrum being reflected off a surface to us. Black is the opposite and is the absorption of all light " in theory anyway - because if a black
